A Man Who Was About to Commit Suicide For Want of Work.

Not in the poorest part of the city where poverty is expected but in a well-to-do residence portion a case of intended suicide is reported because of an inability to get work and provide for a family.

The case was discovered by two of the city pastors, and helped in time to save a human life.

Two ministers living in the western part of the city some time ago made a house to house visitation of their district, and in a respectable looking home was found a man who was on the verge of insanity and ready to kill himself because of his inability to find anything to do.

He was unwilling to beg and probably would have starved to death or violently killed himself if his condition had not been found out.

He told his visitors that he could not beg, and that he would rather die than to lose his self-respect.

He has had work until a few months ago sufficient to keep himself and family from starvation, but since then they had seen hard times.

STILL IN DEFAULT.

An Embarrassing Condition of Affairs Relating to the Midland Bonds.

The default of the city on the $74,000 Kansas Midland refunding bonds continues. The city continues to get offers for the bonds, but not the kind of offers it wants. Offers of 90, 95 and 97 cents are frequent, and are always refused. City Agent Noel has another offer in his safe for 93 cents. Even this does not tempt the finance committee of the city council, and they propose to wait until they can place their bonds at 100 cents even if they have to keep on paying the 8 per cent on the old bonds.

A. L. Barnett, representing the banking house of Spitzer & Co., Boston, has been in the city two days, and held a conference with Mayor Harrison, Committee men Ernest and Fulton, and Fiscal Agent G. P. Noel, at the city hall last night. Their conference was behind closed doors, and resulted in a rejection of Barnett's proposition, as he did not offer it fair. Mr. Barnett offered 93 cents. He intimated that he would offer 97 cents if it would do any good.

"If bonds are worthless," said Mr. Ernest, "why is your finance buying all the bonds it does?"

"Because we expect to make money out of it," replied Barnett.

"How?"

"It is reasonable to presume that bonds will be worth more some time than they are now."

"What is to prevent the city from making money then by holding our bonds?"

"Nothing that I know of," replied Mr. Barnett rather curtly, and the rest of the councilmen smiled approval.

Mr. Barnett went home today.

STRAINING HARD.

Struggling to Raise $1,000 to Complete the Western Mill Subscription.

"People out west are supposed to do things quick," said Mr. Appleyard at the meeting of those interested in the Western Mill enterprise last night. Mr. Appleyard did not complete the sentence, but by the device, "We put on suspense," those present understood what he meant.

C. J. Prescott recited this reflection on western enterprise and said Topeka had done pretty well in raising $100,000 of the $200,000 to which Mr. Appleyard referred he meant just what he said.

The canvassing committee planned with Mr. Appleyard to give them one more chance and extend the date till Saturday night. Mr. Appleyard was very reluctant to do so, he said. Finally he did promise to do it, and the committee agreed to go ahead and try to raise the balance.

JUDGE RINER'S COURT.

It is Not Expected to Open Until Wednesday Next.

Judge Riner will probably not reach here until Tuesday and court may not assemble until Wednesday morning.

Clerk Sharitz has received the papers from Judge Riner in the cases of the St. Joe and Grand Island railroad vs. R. M. Steele, sheriff of Bourbon county, and F. C. Hubbard vs. the county commissioners of Wallace county, and the judge announced that he will render a decision in both cases the first day of the session of the term of court.

What cases will be heard at this term of court will not be decided upon until the cases in the trial docket have all been called and those ready for trial will be taken up and disposed of. The petit jury will reach here Monday and the court will remain in session several weeks.

Charley Holliday For It.

It is generally understood that Charley Holliday was a candidate for the place which Mr. Cleveland lately gave to Tom Moonlight. But Charley was comforted with the promise that he would be given "something just as good." Mr. Holliday, as a national commissioner from Kansas to the World's fair, made a great many friends, and is at present in Washington sitting as a judge in the court of appeals in connection with the bureau of awards.

At Wichita they thought that the dance of Miss Lewellyn was the best thing in "Side Tracked," which comes here Monday.

Bank Commissioner Breidenthal has been notified that the State bank of McEvoy has gone into voluntary liquidation.

Frederic Pauley, who comes to this town this month plays "A Duel of Hearts," "The Dowager" and "A Private Scene."

There was $4,000 insurance on the city electric light plant, and the loss will not exceed over $1,500.

Rev. Dr. Embree, of the First Methodist church, has decided to preach next Sunday morning from the subject, "The Life Beyond the Grave."

Ex-Attorney General Ives smiles when any one suggests the North and South railroad scheme. Ives says it is a good scheme to work away from home.

City Clerk McFadden receives requests every few days from city officials in Kansas asking for documents showing the workings of prohibition in Topeka.
